

What We Will Be Learning For The Week of Dec 13 - Dec 17

Math	In math lessons this week our students will be continuing to practice their addition, subtraction and thinking skills. They will work to solve word-based using the part-part-whole visual technique. Students will attempt more challenging problems requiring two steps to solve.
Language	In language lessons students will be focusing on publishing and creating illustrations for their story. Afterwards we will share and celebrate each other's stories in the famous 'Author's Chair'.
Unit of Inquiry	In our unit of inquiry activities students will be working to complete, share and reflect on their visual art pieces that they've created. Our students will also be working in class and at home on creating an example of performance art to share with the class, and then reflecting on how it feels to be a performing artist.
Reading	In reading lessons this week students will be reading a selection of Christmas related stories, as well as the stories that they have written for others.
